Society Awards

Beth Darling, DO, is the 2022 recipient of the Howard E. Wulsin Excellence in Teaching Award for his outstanding contributions to psychiatric education. (Presented by Reema Chopra, DO).

Past recipients of the Howard E. Wulsin Excellence in Teaching Award include: Howard E. Wulsin, MD, DLFAPA, 2005; Eric Michael Reiman, MD, 2006; John Cecil Racy, MD, DLFAPA, 2007; James B. McLoone, MD, DLFAPA, 2008; William Scott James, MD, DLFAPA, 2009; Michael Edward Brennan, MD, DLFAPA, 2010; Aimee C. Kaempf, MD, 2011; M. Christian Cornelius, MD, 2012; Martin B. Kassell, MD, DLFAPA, 2013; Richard D. Lane, MD, PhD, 2014; Andrea Joy Waxman, MD, 2015; Devna Rastogi, MD, 2016; Ron Wright, PhD/MD/PhD, 2017; Shehzad H. Ayub, DO, 2018, Samuel P. Hand, MD, 2019; Saira Kalia, MD, 2020, and James B. McLoone, MD, DLFAPA, 2021.

About Dr. Darling:

Dr. Darling is the current Medical Director and Psychiatrist for the Valleywise Health Assertive Community Treatment program, having been in this role since her graduation from psychiatry residency in 2017. She is core faculty with the Creighton University Arizona Health Education Alliance Psychiatry Residency Program in addition to faculty with the Departments of Psychiatry at the University of Arizona College of Medicine Phoenix, Mayo Clinic College of Medicine and Science Phoenix, and Creighton University College of Medicine. Dr. Darling completed her undergraduate education with a bachelor’s degree in psychology from Arizona State University in 2004. She then worked in case management for the outpatient SMI system in Maricopa County while preparing to attend medical school. She completed her medical education at Midwestern University Arizona College of Osteopathic Medicine in 2013, and then went on to complete her psychiatry residency training at Maricopa Integrated Health System (now Creighton Alliance) in 2017. During her residency, she served two years as the chief resident and was the APS resident of the year in 2017. She is board certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology with her primary clinical practice focusing on treatment refractory serious mental illness.

In addition to her clinical work, Dr. Darling trains Creighton Alliance PGY-3 psychiatry residents, precepting them in the ACT clinic for 6 months at a time. She hosts Creighton Alliance family medicine residents during their PGY-3 elective psychiatry rotation, and 4th year medical students from various medical colleges for elective psychiatry rotations. In this last academic year, she has also provided supervision coverage to the Creighton Alliance PGY-3 residents in their outpatient resident clinic. Additionally, Dr. Darling teaches two didactic courses for the...
Creighton Alliance residents, including a community resources class for the PGY-1 residents and advanced psychopharmacology to PGY-3 and PGY-4 residents. Dr. Darling actively participates in a mentoring role for several of the current residents, and always welcomes the opportunity to meet with residents seeking supervision, or simply support.

Since beginning her work in the SMI community in 2004, Dr. Darling has been an advocate to progressing treatment for those with SMI both in her daily clinical work, teaching, and research endeavors. Over the course of the last six months, Dr. Darling has volunteered her time to participate in a project with the Maricopa County Mental Health Task force to map the court ordered evaluation and treatment process in Maricopa County with the goal of identifying areas of improvement and plans for change.

Throughout COVID-19, Dr. Darling has volunteered her time to work with Valleywise Health administration to develop and implement ideas for wellness and general support to nursing and ancillary staff. This included a number of wellness focused discussions over the last two years, providing community resources for mental health treatment for staff, as well as speaking at A Night of Healing candlelight vigil for those Valleywise Health staff who lost their lives to COVID. In addition to being a physician and teacher, Dr. Darling is a dedicated wife and mother of three young children.

James B. McLoone, MD, DLFAPA, is the 2022 recipient of the Career Achievement in Psychiatry Award for his outstanding contributions to psychiatric education. (Presented by Dr. Jehangir (Jay) Bastani).

Past recipients of the Career Achievement in Psychiatry Award are: David J. Coons, MD, DLFAPA, 2014; Barry Morenz, MD, DFAPA, 2015; Martin B. Kassell, MD, DLFAPA, 2016; and Jehangir “Jay” Boman Bastani, MD, DLFAPA, 2017; Michael Edward Brennan, MD, DLFAPA, 2018; William C. Offenkrantz, MD, DLFAPA, 2019, and John C. Racy, MD, DLFAPA, 2020. Established in 2014, this annual award has been created for the purpose of recognizing from within the Arizona Psychiatric Society a member whose career achievements have ennobled the profession of psychiatry and best exemplify the APS values of providing compassionate patient care and support of peers, leadership, community service, education, advocacy, and clinical excellence.

About Dr. McLoone:

James B. McLoone, MD, DLFAPA, is a Distinguished Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association and two-time recipient of the Arizona Psychiatric Society Howard E. Wulsin Excellence in Education Award. He is a native Phoenician and third generation Arizona physician. He completed his undergraduate studies at the University of Arizona and received his Medical Degree from George Washington University School of Medicine in Washington, D.C. where he was selected to the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society. He completed an internship in Internal Medicine before his Psychiatry Residency at the U.C.L.A. Neuropsychiatric Institute where he was also a Chief Resident. Dr. McLoone is a Diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Geriatric Psychiatry.

Dr. McLoone returned to Phoenix in 1980 where he actively practiced adult Psychiatry his entire career. He was frequently named a “Top Doc” by his local peers. He also held several administrative and teaching positions including serving as the Psychiatry Residency Director at Banner-University Medical Center Phoenix (Good Samaritan) nearly 35 years and Chair of Psychiatry from 1992 until his retirement in 2021. He was Acting Chief Academic Officer for four years and Chair of the Graduate Medical Education Committee for 25 years at Banner-University Medical Center in Phoenix.

Dr. McLoone has been involved with the University of Arizona College of Medicine Phoenix Campus since its inception, including roles as Director of the statewide Psychiatry Clerkship from 1994 until 2021, Associate Chief of Psychiatry for Academic and Clinical Affairs, and Chair of Psychiatry from 2017 until last year. His current academic title is Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry in the Clinical Scholar Track. During his lengthy career at Banner and the U of A College of Medicine in Phoenix he was active as a lecturer, seminar leader, clinical supervisor and career advocate for medical students and residents. Dr. McLoone was a member of numerous curriculum planning and accreditation committees and the Banner-University of Arizona Academic Medicine Council’s Education Committee which oversees their shared mission of growth and excellence of medical student and graduate medical education throughout Arizona.

Deborah Geesling is the 2022 recipient of the Arizona Psychiatric Society Mental Health Public Service Award.

The Mental Health Public Service Award was established in 2021 to recognize a member of the community that has:

- Made a significant contribution to the mental health community, such as ensuring access to quality services for individuals with mental illness in the State of Arizona.

- Contributed significantly to advocacy work on behalf of consumers, the field of mental health, and the medical profession in the State of Arizona.

- Played a material role in the delivery of programs or reforms promoting mental health in the State of Arizona.
• Made material impact to mental health through political action on behalf of psychiatric physicians, their patients, and the community in the State of Arizona.

The first recipient of the Mental Health Public Service Award was Joseph F. Abate, Esq. in 2021.

About Mrs. Geesling:

Deborah Geesling co-founded P82 Project Restoration in 2015 with the dream of opening homes for those with Serious Mental Illness (SMI). This vision to provide mental health care for those suffering from SMI involved including their families, existing social networks, churches, etc. rather than separating them.

As the Geeslings navigated the mental health care system to find the best possible care for their son, P82 Homes was birthed to provide hope, assistance, and information to other families.

The Geeslings have met countless families over the years who have experienced the despair, confusion, and pain that come from parenting a child suffering from SMI while simultaneously navigating a mental health care system that often unintentionally separates children from their parents and supportive family structures. They have seen hope and healing result from these connections time and time again.

The Geeslings believe strong partnerships between families, the mental health care system, and faith-based communities are essential ingredients for long term success to care for those recovering from SMI.

Mrs. Geesling lives in Phoenix, AZ and serves families and health care providers across the state. Deborah is the former Chair of the East Valley Behavioral Health Coalition and is a founding member of The Association for the Chronically Mentally Ill (ACMI).

When Deborah began to experience the effects of Serious Mental Illness (SMI) in one of her own children, she took courageous “Momma Bear” action to love her son and navigate a mental health care system that traditionally separated families and left the mentally ill vulnerable to sexual abuse, homelessness, and drug addiction.

As Deborah’s journey with her own son, now in recovery from mental illness, unfolded, she discovered ways to bring practical HOPE for families affected by the mental illness of a child that have amplified her voice across America.

By learning ways to navigate the mental health care system and advocate for holistic care and family involvement in the journey of a child’s mental illness, Deborah’s voice has been heard nationwide. She is now an advocate and trusted resource for parents across America who have a child suffering from mental illness. She has been mentioned in several publications for her advocacy and support of those with SMI.

The Physician Payment Sunshine Act is a federal law that requires pharmaceutical and device manufacturers under certain circumstances to publicly report any complimentary gift, food, beverage, non-CME certified education, or other items of value given to physicians. If you are provided a complimentary item by a company that may be required to report your receipt of that gift, APA recommends that you ask the person providing the complimentary item whether your name will be reported under the Act before accepting the complimentary item so that you can make an independent and educated decision to accept or not accept it.

The exhibitor drawing prizes are sponsored by the Arizona Psychiatric Society and the Physician Payment Sunshine Act does not apply to your participation in the raffle or in the event that you are chosen as the recipient of one of those prizes.
